FAA Approved Flight Instructor Refresher Course

The spirit of the FIRC should parallel that of any other professional conference. A live, in-person FIRC is a professional conference in a very real sense since flight instructors are, by definition, professionals. The FIRC is not intended to rehash the basics, but rather to expose the instructor to the latest in flight training techniques, newest technology, and most importantly, operational and safety procedures. We have all kinds of digital ways to communicate instantly everywhere but it's still inferior to the vibrancy of in-person information; nothing replaces eye-to-eye contact and a handshake.

Directions: On Interstate 90, exit on North LaCrosse Street, from North LaCrosse Street exit on East Disk Drive.
